SENATOR DANIEL ON PEACE BILL

Will Amend His Measure to Accord With Bartholdt's Bill.

POPULAR SUBSCRIPTION

The Smithfield Ham Industry Is Now Safe From Untoward Snares.

BY WALTER EDWARD HARRIS. Senator Daniel has proposed an amendment to his "pease bill," which is of much importance as to radically modify adopted; in fact, it is understood that the House will enact the bill as introtained in Senator Daniel's amendment.

s requested to issue a proclamation, as passage of this act, inviting contributions from the men, women and children of the United States to the foundation for the promation of industrial peace, as constituted by this act to the end that the people of the country in general who are so deeply interested to preserve peace may have full and fair opportunity to give as they may toward its promotion. The fund to be received by the foundation of industrial peace is hereby limited to $3,000,000, and the President is hereby authorized in inviting popular subscriptions to this fond to make appropriate rules as to the collection thereof for the benefit of the foundation."

BECOMING A MOTHER nothing compares with the pain and horror of child-birth. The thought of the suffering and danger in store for her, robs the expectant mother of all pleasant anticipations of the coming event, and casts over her a shadow of gloom which cannot be shaken off. Thousands of women have found that the use of Mother's Friend during pregnancy robs confinement of all pain and danger, and insures safety to life of mother and child. This scientific liniment is a god-send to all women at the time of their most critical trial. Not only does Mother's Friend carry women safely through the perils of child-birth, but its use gently prepares the system for the coming event, prevents "morning and other dis-

Popular Subscription.

It is believed that a proclamation of the President calling for popular subscriptions to the fund will be met with a very general response. He set the example by donating the $40,000 awarded him as the Nobel prize, and he will have many imitators. Senator Daniel is much filterested in this proposition to establish a fund and something like a tribunal hefore which controversies between capital and labor may be heard and adjusted.

"I should like to have the bill provide for general contributions to the foundation," he said to-day.

Currency Bill.

The Finance Committee, of which Senator Daniel is a member, reported to the Senate to-day the bill which Dassed the House last spring, providing the amendment of, certain sections of the currency act of March 14, 1900. Chairman Aldrich gave notice that he would call up the bill to-morrow, which means, in all probability, that it will pass the Senate this week. The bill authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to receive deposits of gold coin in sums of not less than $29, and to issue gold certificates therefor in denominations of not less than ten dollars.

The bill also authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury, whenever the outstanding silver certificates of the denominations of $1, $2, and $5 shall Discharged Soldier Says Firing Came From Town-He Never Told Anyone of This.

WASHINGTON, D. The Senate Committee on Military Af fairs, which is conducting the inquiry, is tiring of the proceedings and ov is tiring of the proceedings and overy session marks a dropping off in the attendance of senators. There is such a similarity in the stories told by the negro former soldiers that there is very little interest. To-day there was a slight departure, when Thomas J. Green, who was the quirtermaster-sergeant of Company D, told of seeing flashes from guns, followed by reports of the guns. He said that the shooting came from the town. On cross-examination, he said that he had cross-examination, he said that he had cross-examination, he said that he had never told anyone of seeing the finshes from the guns and that he did not consider it the duty of an enlisted man to investigate the effects of the shooting.

According to Green's account of the incidents of the night of August 12th, incidents of the night of August 12th, he did not sleep well, and was awake when the first shot was fired. His room was in the building occupied by Company D, and located on the side next to the town. He said he rose in bed and saw the firing, and that it was apparent to him that an attack was being made on the garrison. After that, he dressed and assumed his duty upon the call to arms being upon the call to arms being

This was in reply to a request of Representative Cocke that additional witnesses be summoned, by which he hoped to prove that Senator Balley had horrowed $7,000 of J. D. Suggs, of lorn county.

When it was suggested that the committee leave at once for St. Louis, where additional testimony is to be taken. Senator Balley protested that he should not be compelled to "go over the country as the principal in an investigation of this nature."

It also developed to-day that the committee is adverse to allowing testimony to appear in the record before being censored by a majority of the committee, assisted by Senator Balley.

SMALL TREASURY NOTES.

Senate Committee Recommends Notes of Small Denomination.

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 12. The Senate Committee on Finance today completed its amendments to the House bill to provide additional circulation of treasury notes of small denominations. The bill, as ordered favorably reported, provides that gold certificates may be issued in denominations of not less than $10. It provides further that whenever silver certificates of the denominations of one, two and five dollars, in the opinion of the Secretary of the Treasury, shall be insufficient to meet the public demand, he is authorized to issue treasury notes of the denominations of one, two and five dollars, but United States notes of higher denominations shall be retired to the value of the small notes issued. The aggregate amount of United States notes at any time outstanding is not to be changed.

A new section was added to the bill, in which the present law was amended in so far as it prohibits the Secretary of the Treasury from depositing customs revenues in banks which have qualified as national depositaries.

Another section was added, in which the limitation on the amount of national bank actreulation that may be retired within a single month is increased from $3,400,000 to $9,000,000. House bill to provide additional circula

NAVAL BILL.

Williams Wants $25,000,000 for Good Roads.

WASHINGTON, February 12.—After the passage of a number of bills under unanimous consent the House to-day resolved 'tself into committee of the whole to consider the naval appropriation bill. A number of the recommendations of the naval appropriations of the naval appropriations committee were on points of order eliminated from the bill. Twenty pages of the bill were completed. The army appropriation bill, the fortifications appropriation bill and the omnibus lighthouse bills were sent to conference.

Representative Williams, of Mississippl, to-day introduced a bill appropriating $25,000,000 per annum from the surplus in the treasury for the use of the several States, to be spent by them in the building of good roads. Bills providing for the transfer to the State of South Carolina of certain school funds for the use of the free schools in the parishes of St. Helena and St. Luke in that State, and providing for a United States fudge for the northern district of Alabama, were passed.

CRIMINAL CASES.

Senate Passes Day in Argument Concerning Government's Right. WASHINGTON. February 12.—The Senate occupied the day in argument on the bill granting the government the right to take an appeal on points of law in criminal cases. The opposition came mainly from Senators Rayner and Whyte, of Maryland, and Heyburn, of Idaho, while elaborate defenses of the proposition were made by Senators Patterson, Knox. Nelson and Spooner. No action was taken on the measure. Senator Nolson gave notice that he should move its consideration to-morrow. Senator Lodge indicated that he should press the Philippine agricultural bank bill to-morrow. DEFERNAL MACHINES IN WITTE HOUSE

Stranger Warned Him to Change His Sleeping Apartments.

ST. PETEIRSBURG, February 12.—Count Witte to-day confirmed the report that an infernal machine, with a clock-work apparatus attached, was found in an unlighted stove of his house last night. A servant noticed a string dangling from the door of the stove, investigated, and discovered a box. Being suspicious of its contents, the servant summoned the police, who found that it was an infernal machine, containing nitro-glycerine. It appears that an unknown man asked the house-porter recently on which side of the house the count slopt, and when the information was given, the stranger urged the porter to warn the ex-premier to change his room. The porter, however, paid no attention to the warning.

A second infernal machine, timed to explode at 8 o'clock this evening, was found in the Witte residence during the day. ST. PETERSBURG, February 12 .-

Had Been Ill for Two Weeks, But Death Was Unexpected.

BEGAN CAREER AS RODMAN

Succeeded Barr as President of the Seaboard Less Than a Year Ago.

NEW YORK, February 12.—President Alfred Walter, of the Seaboard Alr Line, died at his home, 144 West Seventy-fifth Street, in this city, to-day. He had been ill about two weeks.

Mr. Walter was fifty-six years old, and was a railroad man all his wife, He began as a rodman on the Allegheny Valley Road in 1872, and worked gradually upward until he had held important positions with several of the big Eastern pines. In December, 1894, he became president of the Delaware, Susquehanna and Schuykill Railroad; in July, 1897, he was made president of the Lehigh Valley Railroad, and a rew menths ago he was elected to the presidency of the Seaboard Air Line.

The announcement of the death of President Walter was conveyed in the form of a telegram to Mr. H. S. Leard, district anssencer agent of the Seaboard listrater and list and list and list and list and list and listrater and listrater and list and listrater and list and list and listrater and listr

The announcement of the death of President Walter was conveyed in the form of a telegram to Mr, II. S. Leard, district passenger agent of the Seaboard Air Line, but simply stating the fact of his death and the hour. No details whatever were given. It was known here that Mr. Walter had been in declining health for some time and that he was III, but it was not thought that his end was so near. Few persons in this city were personally acquainted with Mr. Walter, among the number, however, being President George W. Stevens, of the Chesapeuke and Ohlo. When a reporter called to see Mr. Stevens yesterday it was announced that he was absent from the city.

Mr. Walter was expected in Richmond at the time of the recent conference on the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potemac presidency, but the road was represented instead by General Counsel Legh R. Watts, of Portsmouth, The president of the Seaboard has seldom visited Richmond since his election to succeed Mr. James M. Barr, reskined. of his superior officer came. Mr. Walter was elected president of the road in April, 1996, upon the resignation of President Barr, and entered upon his duties May 1st.

No one in this city could give any information on the subject yesterday, but it is expected that emblems of mourning will be displayed at the station and at the local offices of the company as soon as instructions therefor are issued. Several presidents of Virginia railroads have died within the past two or three years. President E. T. D. Myers, of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac, died about two years ago; President Samuel Spencer, of the Southern, was killed on November 29th, 1906, and the death of Mr. Walter follows hard upon his.

While no one connected with the road in this city will hazard an opinion or a guess, it is believed that Vice-President Garrett, who made an address to the Railroad Y. M. C. A. last night, will be the man. The selection will be made by the directors of the road. The Ryan-Blair syndicate controls the road and will select a man in sympathy with their policies, it is assumed.

This meant that a watch presented to Mr. Clemens on Christmas, 1903, by Mr. Rogers had been stolen and that Commissioner Blingham had placed the police force on its mettle to recover it. Response to that menacing summons was instantaneous. The watch is again in Mr. Clemens's possession, safe and unseared. It was returned through a pawn-broker.

Rogers" needed no loxicon except the newspapers to make it spell "Unsafe," and the heavy gold watch case was undoubtedly headed for the melting pot when that demand which admitted no denial same from the police. How swiftly and surely it sped is shown by the result.

While the house which Mr. Clemens has taken at 21 Fifth Avenue was undergoing repairs a few days ago there were many strangers in it, workmen and their helpers, and it is believed that some watchful thief took advantage of the occusion to slip in unnoticed and make off with whatever valuables he could quickly find. Thus the watch disappeared and its loss was keenly felt by its owner.

Determined to use every effort at his command to recover it, Mr. Clemens, who studiously avoids public places as a rule, went to police headquarters. He wore his famous suit of white, and the reporters, who were first to recognize him, found the author standing in the hall outside the detective bureau.

Commissioner Bingham, who has known Mr. Clemens for several years, greeted him very cordially and directed that special effort be made to find the missing watch.

Cowpeas

The increasing demand for all kinds of Cowneas with each season demonstrates the important value of this commodity to farmera. Practical experience in various sections shows their utility, and preforence is given over commercial fertilizers because they are ecomonical and more satisfactory. In addition to this, their use as a forage crop is almost doubling itself with each year, until the demand has grown to be larger than the supply.

Soy Beans

The prolific growth of these Beans makes them very desirable seed for a forage crop, and their popularity is increasing every year. They are also valuable in mixing with Cowpeas on account of their tail and stout growth, which serves to hold up the Cowpeas while growing, and they are being largely used for this purpose.

During the past season the weather conditions were exceedingly unfavorable, and destroyed a large per cent. of the crop of both Cowpeas and Soy Beans, but with our large facilities we have been enabled to secure a fairly good
